Indian Society of Haematology and Blood Transfusion

Society Reg. No.: F7820

The Indian Society of Haematology and Blood Transfusion (ISHBT) is a non-governmental, not-for-profit professional membership organization established in 1959. The Society is dedicated to promoting excellence in patient care, research, and education in clinical and laboratory haematology. With a strong network of over 2,450 life members, ISHBT serves as a dynamic and inclusive platform for haematologists across India and beyond. It actively fosters academic advancement through its Annual National Conference, peripheral Continuing Medical Education (CME) programs, workshops, symposia, regular newsletters & national scientific meetings that bring together leading experts and trainees from around the globe. ISHBT conducts quizzes for undergraduate, postgraduate and postdoctoral students to foster interest in the field of haematology. The Society also awards various prizes, research grants, and medals to encourage academic excellence, and stimulate research among young scholars. To further strengthen haematology awareness and outreach, ISHBT organizes Community Haematology Programs and social outreach initiatives, particularly in smaller and underserved regions, to enhance awareness and promote best practices in the field.

Through international collaborations with the European Haematology Association (EHA), the American Society of Haematology (ASH), and the Japanese Society of Haematology (JSH), as well as academic partners across Asian countries, ISHBT provides young haematologists with valuable global exposure and opportunities for knowledge exchange on international platforms. ISHBT publishes its official bi-monthly journal, the Indian Journal of Haematology & Blood Transfusion (IJHBT). The journal is a peer-reviewed medical publication that showcases high-quality research from across India and around the world & has an established impact factor. The Society also plays an important advisory role in supporting the Government of India in formulating national guidelines for the prevention and treatment of haematological disorders. ISHBT has contributed significantly to the launch & implementation of various national programs. It has published evidence-based guidelines on Sickle Cell Disease, Thalassemia, and Nutritional Anaemia, and is currently developing guidelines on Aplastic Anaemia, Bone Marrow Aspiration and Biopsy Reporting, Acute Myeloid Leukemia (AML), Bone Marrow Transplantation, Haemophilia, and other key disorders. These initiatives aim to ensure uniform standards of treatment across the country, reinforcing ISHBT's commitment to advancing haematology practice and improving patient outcomes.
